Update on D Shares

EKC was advised by the provincial regulator (British Columbia Financial Services Authority) that D shares, also known as Non-Equity Shares (NES), are no longer covered under the Credit Union Deposit Insurance Corporation (CUDIC) program.

At EKC, our members come first. Therefore, we have decided that all D share balances will be transferred to a Member Advantage Savings account after dividends are paid on January 1, 2022.

With the move to virtual meetings and a conscious mind about the environment, EKC decided to give up their Equinox vehicle to a community initiative that could put it to good use. COTR Automotive Service Technician program gladly accepted the 2011 Equinox into their fleet for training purposes with their students. Shout out to Jack Carter Northstar GM Cranbrook who appraised it and removed the decals for free.
